"P1679965040" "Relax...Polario is just fine. For now."
"P2923403429" "<color orange>You look over to Polario.</color>  <color DarkKhaki>What do you want for Polario? Money? Artifacts? Technology? What are you after?"
"P66517226" "I -just- want a moment of your time. You're -very- hard to contact."
"P2294954833" "<color orange>You can hear the sound of Overdrive flying - she must already be moving in on this location.</color>  <color DarkKhaki>I'd be flattered that you did all of this to get to me, {HeroName}, if I wasn't so disgusted by you!   What...a knocked out Arachnos agent...?  <color orange>Operative Vargas - Overdrive must already be inside of the building!"
"P1412547053" "I believe this conversation is done, Overdrive. I'll be seeing you shortly..."
"P2875666600" "<color orange>Before Overdrive can respond, you shut off the communicator. She should be up here any minute now...</color>"
"P2977232638" "Time to prepare everything...but first, to deal with you, Polario!"
"P2627076983" "<color orange>You deliver a swift attack to Polario, knocking him out!  The elevator lets out a loud DING - Overdrive has arrived!"
"P588817263" "I believe this would be called 'phase 2'..."
"P1876022097" "<color orange>Overdrive grits her teeth in anger as you stand over her.</color>  Mmmph...you've gotten the best of me for the moment...{HeroName}...but you know you can't kill me...I'll just teleport away..."

"P4149299904" "<color orange>Blast Furnace stumbles backwards and collapses onto the ground, steam rising from the cracks in his armor.</color>  I'm not supposed to lose...not to villains like YOU...{HeroName}...!  You're just lucky...I'm holding back all of my power...!"
"P2467359355" "Yes, of -course- I'm lucky. I'm sure you're MUCH more powerful."

"P3230310017" "<color orange>Blast Furnace remains immobile - while Overdrive charges at you!</color>"
"P3181056943" "I'll handle you in a moment...!"
"P2025160748" "<color orange>Blast Furnace's hand shakes with anger.</color>  I could burn you to a crisp right here if I wanted to...! I swear it!  You're just lucky...that it would destroy this entire city block...!"
"P1779895992" "Oh, I'm sure. Come on, Blast Furnace. Unleash some of that power!"
"P3493406577" "<color orange>Blast Furnace remains silent, refusing to show the so-called power he claims to have.</color>"
"P1792682947" "Well, that's too bad. I'll leave you here to wallow. I'm taking Overdrive!"
"P3778654525" "You can't! I won't let you!"
"P3558461933" "You already tried to stop me. And you -failed-."
"P1774350333" "<color orange>You hear Ovedrive grunt nearby as her power suit activates, causing your mind control device to shatter!  Overdrive has broken free of the mind control!"
"P2867392469" "Ugh, you heroes are REALLY getting on my nerves!"
"P4204321697" "<color orange>Blast Furnace stares at the spot where Overdrive was defeated, then up towards you.</color>."
"P4078502397" "What's wrong? No fight left in you?"
"P1801801428" "You're just lucky...that you're hiding behind the innocents that live nearby...if it wasn't for them...you would be destroyed by now!"
"P4047935927" "Blast Furnace...as long as you have that attitude...you'll never win. Goodbye."
"P2138639339" "<color orange>Before Blast Furnace can respond, you deliver one final attack to him, throwing him across the room. His medi-porter system kicks in, teleporting him to safety."
"P12194121" "Hmph. Perhaps that will teach those heroes a lesson."
"P3959392088" "You map out your master plan after picking up some more information on Arachnos's 'big plan'.   Operative Vargas is currently waiting for some hired help in the form of Savage Siren to show up - looks like they're paying her off to be the one to do the deed. You're going to get there before Savage Siren and take the device from Vargas - leaving him sprawled out along the ground should leave a clear message to Savage Siren - stay away from here.  Once that's done, you'll have to make your way to the top of Polario's penthouse and take him out - before the cameras start to roll. Once he's taken care of, you'll send a message to Longbow that you're 'holding him hostage' - it's just a matter of time until your soon-to-be lackey, Overdrive, arrives.   You'll beat her into a pulp, use the device, then walk out with the people of Paragon watching your victory!   Longbow will have lost their inside man of Polario, the heroes of Paragon will never b...

"P4211262120" "Yes, it was I. I am you from thousands of years in the future. Or rather, you're me from thousands of years in the past. It required the power of a god to break the timestream to get you this message, and a god I am."
"P65625632" "You mean... I'm a god in the future?"
"P2775263389" "Not 'a' god. The only god. And this is why I need to warn you of the greatest mistake I made - you will make.  We stole the power of the gods forever ago - or many years in your future, from your point of view. A man named Frostfire was there in the chamber, pleading for me - us - to not drink from source of the gods. He was standing in front of that well as he begged for me not to go through with it. I could have pushed him in and taken all the power for myself, but in my hubris I chose to taunt him instead. For just a few moments, the same amount of time it took to insult my former foe, I could have prevented the greatest failure I have ever performed.  But with this knowledge I give you, YOU CAN CHANGE THE FUTURE!"
"P1025803032" "So you're saying that I should push him into the well when I have the chance?"
"P628766744" ""No! You don't understand! That power was meant for him! Not me! He drew from the well, but only half of it. It wasn't enough to stop me from killing him with Nethermatter.  The Nethermatter was as dangerous to me as it was to him, for we each possessed only one half of the power of the gods. If he would have had all the power, he would have been invulnerable to the Nethermatter. Perhaps he would have been powerful enough to even create life itself!"
"P2234331381" "Hold on... with all the power one could create life!?"
"P40246484" "Yes. It was the source of creation. However...  Had I listened to him instead of insulting him - had I turned away from my deadly course - had I understood that my path only led to destruction...  Then he would have taken all that power unto himself... and used it to turn the world into a paradise Man has only ever been able to dream of.  But instead I used that power to ERADICATE all life on the planet.  All life in the galaxy.  And yet I still live. All alone. For the rest of Eternity."

"P3268951864" "I see. So... I have the chance to change the future?"

"P139883752" "When we learn from our REAL mistakes?"
"P253504350" "No... No, you musn't! You must give the power to Frostfire or we're doomed!"

"P1784430787" "You continue listening to the message sent by your future self.  'Crey Industries has a secret lab that they are using to conduct experiments on the time-space continuum. I found it many centuries ago, and this is where I - you - would begin forming your - my - master plan. Within the lab are three matrices they're using to open rifts in time. Encoded in this message are three keycodes that will locate me - you - in the past - er - in your future.  You MUST know what you did wrong or EVERYTHING will be ruined!"

I continued onward, of course - who am I to try to oppose Crey? But I did my own research into the matter, of course!  I found the name of two men who might be able to answer my questions regarding this odd pattern in the serum Dr. Forrester and Operative Grillo. When this is done, I intend to discuss the true nature of the serum with them directly. Until then... I will have to simply bide my time.</color>"

"P915474505" "Crey has caused too many problems for the city for years now. In the past they've managed to wiggle out of every charge due to legal loopholes. Even with this proof in your hands, Crey will surely find a way to slip out of this case as well. Unless you find the scientist they're working with and force a confession from her, that is.    This serum can get into the hands of innocent people, but if you don't stop the source, many more lives could potentially be hurt as well. This time around, it might be a good idea to let a few people be put at risk in order to save a great deal more. Stopping Crey and this scientist will save more lives than a few citizens affected by the serum."

The details are hazy as to how she began working with the Council, though it appears she is under some mind control.   One interesting note was that her mind was easily controlled by the Council, meaning she either has very weak defenses against that...or she was willing to help the Council in their schemes. But why?"
"P3024191127" "You have no idea what the Council has in mind for those weapons systems codes. All you know from what the inside agent in the military complex said, and it doesn't sound good. If it's as dangerous as it sounds, then there are many lives that may be put at risk.    It's entirely possible that those Pulse Charges may go off, but the Council usually works on a bigger scale. He's only doing all of this because of the hate that has been filled in him. I know it's a lot to ask...but please, try to help him. Although these cylinders are means by which he's able to contact his victims, he's ultimately the source behind it. If you can find what these cylinders are drawing from, maybe you can cause a reverse backlash of psychic energy and send it straight into his mind. This could possibly burn out the part of his brain that allows him to control others. Sure it might burn out other parts of his mind, like motor functions or even speech, but the risk is worth it. Her insidious plots have ranged from toppling historic monuments by means of accelerated plant overgrowth to despoiling outlying farms' harvests. However, she has never resorted to outright kidnapping. Perhaps this note is truly a plea for help from her.    If she truly is considering turning away from her evil ways, then you can not discount this warning. There may still be time to rescue the members of the City Council before it's curtains for them. From what it sounds like, Miss Thystle may be trying to delay her cohorts from following through with their plan, offering you an adequate distraction allowing you a chance to get them to safety.    Not only will you be able to save the lives of respected members of society, you may also be able to show Miss Thystle that fighting for what is right pays off far more than the life she's been previously living."

"P1455312809" "The Carnival Mistress revealed to you that the once big-name heroine, Flambeaux, has been known to run with the Carnival of Shadows, using them to take down groups of Arachnos. Sometimes they mind control her, though the mistress notes that Flambeaux seems to actually enjoy some of the wanton destruction she wages while controlled, to the point where at moments she isn't even being controlled.  However, they do not fully trust Flambeaux, as she has on more than one occasion made a large spectacle out of burning down one of the Carnival's parties, letting the authorities in Paragon know that it was her doing by marking the ashes with the word 'Flammie'."

"P3517968549" "The Crey Researcher told you many, many interesting things regarding Crey Corp, though most of it was only from the stance of a low-level researcher. Two interesting notes were Crey's plans to steal Arachnos technology, specifically regarding their Bane Spiders, and a plan to develop a chemical that would detonate water. However, you were only able to find out that these 'may or may not be happening' - in other words, nothing concrete."

"P1789704772" "Doc Quantum has a good way of doing things. So what if one Longbow agent has been tossed to Arachnos? The information you'll get out of these three villains is well worth the price of some agent, who would have given her life to fight against Arachnos anyway.  It doesn't matter if she didn't exactly know she was going to do it this time - does Longbow ever fully disclose that information anyway?  Regardless, Quantum has set the gift up for you - it's time to collect, though you're slightly wary about how Quantum managed to gather all of these villains together in one place. "P3669174580" "What?! Oh no no NO!...  You're not getting paid until the WHOLE job is done, got it? Don't think you can fool me the way you're fooling all those heroes."
"P1344564032" "Wait... There's more to the job?"
"P3364817588" "Of course there is! You didn't read the whole email, did you?!  Look, you got little Polar-Wolar under the Lost's sway and - uh - I handled the mercs hired to rescue her, right? Now we do the real job, got it? We hold off any other rescue attempts while the Lost transform that poor wittle giwl into a breeding host to create genetically modified... well, i don't know what they are.  Look - All I know is that when they're done with her, she'll be popping out those creatures like an Octo-mom or something. But you know what I care about? All I care about is ALL the CASH they're offering me - er... - us, I meant - to do this."
"P3519617051" "Hold on! They're going to turn her into a... breeding machine?"
"P1624496840" "Oh don't start getting all high and mighty on me now, {HeroName}. I know perfectly well what kinds of things you've been up to in the Rogue Isles. Just because you're hanging out with heroes Doesn't - Mean - You - Are - One.  You'll never be heroic, {HeroName} got it? You're a sick, disgusting mongrel like all the rest of us. Once you start acting like you're more than dirt is when one of those heroes comes along and makes you look real stupid, you know.  Now listen up... if you go back on our deal, I'll get Arachnos down your throat.  AND you won't get your half of the cut!"

However, she knows not to go back on a deal - everyone worth their salt knows bad things happen to people who back out on deals. And for some spare cash, it might be worth it.  The thing that sells you the most about the job is that you get to knock Polar Shift down a peg or two. It seems all you have to do is lure her to some caves below and hit her with some of Thystle's numbing toxin to make her all giddy and dumb.  Heh... make Miss Priss act giddy and stupid? You're in!"

So I decided I'd do what my dad said and call you out. But I was too weak to defeat you. "P605438318" "Sounds good. Let's do this."
"P3961572936" "You just watched a news report detailing the theft of this painting from the highly secured administrative offices of a well known, high class auction house. The way it was stolen was an amazing story unto itself, but that it was stolen before tomorrow's auction for charity was even more audacious. This proceeds of this painting was to be used to rescue kittens from the animal shelter and given to the children at Saint Maria's Home for Orphans with Life-Threatening Illnesses.  Okay... now that you think about it...  If you sell this painting on the black market, it's entirely possible you'll also be purchasing a one-way ticket to a very, very hot place. Sure, you may have a lot of those tickets already, but we're talking Business Class here."

"P2220649284" "Archon Dimitri has increased sustainability by 48% utilizing a remote system and variable drain on the subjects. At lowest level the drain only transfers 5% of the subject's power to the recipient, and can be sustained for several weeks before the subject is killed. Recovery time of the subjects is currently 20 times the activation duration and is currently unsuitable for mass usage. At highest drain the subject transfers 50% of their power to the recipient, but this can only be sustained for a few minutes before the subject is killed. expense of the weaker of the two. In exchange for this knowledge, Kel'Morgath offered me his soul, but I did not know then that his soul was one of the Circle, for their souls are already owed to me and mine."
"P1320859365" "Why does he want the Foci of Binding?"

He has a noble plan to use the Foci to gain enough power in order to fulfill the ancient agreement between the people of Oranbega and my demon overlords. Should he succeed then his soul would still be mine, but his people would be saved. The agreement, however, requires that the bloodline of Mu should be forever extinguished, their souls offered up to us in repayment for our service to them in your distant past. "P1530666285" "No, you don't understand. MARS is only reacting according to his current programming. He wouldn't intentionally seek to do humans harm unless provoked. The Freakshow attack on the lab and the theft of the advanced robotics are what triggered MARS to react and defend himself. Please, you must trust me. MARS will stand down once the threat is neutralized. He's already done a wonderful job of stopping the Freakshow... and I must admit, I admire his ingenuity in incorporating those cybernetic psychopaths into his defensive strategy. Brilliant!"
"P940816362" "You said Mars is threatened... How?"
"P1897415419" "MARS is contained within four separate mainframes stored deep in this facility. Each Mainframe is designed to act as supreme commander of one branch of the military; Army, Navy, Airforce, and Marines.  The Freakshow were looting the place and had gotten too close to MARS 4, the Marine command mainframe, and so MARS retaliated to the attack.  I admit, MARS would normally have relied on normal law enforcement, but I haven't hooked him up to the external network yet, as far as MARS knows, there is no command and control, or military for that matter. Ah ha... so that's why he incorporated the Freakshow into his defensive forces, he didn't have any. That's my boy!"
"P4231270564" "Will Mars stop if it believes the entire military has been destroyed?"

"P2376234990" "Well, it's quite simple, all we have to do is access the Mainframes and adjust a few files and then connect the hardlines...  Oh... Oh dear. I suppose that is a minor oversight. I haven't seen brass like that since, well... back when I was in that village the kid was talking about. The look on my face at the time is the same one you're wearing right now. What the kid left out was that tribe I did that to was responsible for the genocide of several other tribes. About, oh, ten thousand people, give or take."

If you did some footwork, you could probably find someone in the Isles who would be interested in buying the shard off of you, especially if you play it up to be something very important and valuable. "P3807320513" "You do some footwork and manage to get one of your reliable contacts in the Isles to whip up a separate version of serum number 5 - injecting this into the Wardens will give them control over their powers and give you control over them. Maybe it was another you...or someone else entirely. Regardless, look, this chaos? Not good. You heard of Lughebu? God of the Banished Pantheon? Bah! You wouldn't care. Your type never does. All I'm saying is that you should steer clear of Dark Astoria. No one can stop what's happening there now.</color>  With that, the spirit vanishes."
"P636234992" "It's not too difficult to track down information on where Longbow's latest serum is being made. Most agents that would have tried to stop you are too busy tracking down these Wardens and cleaning up the mess that is being left in their wake.  Surprisingly enough, you find that the serum is being made in an abandoned warehouse. Wyvern and the Legacy Chain have been called in for guard duty on the warehouse while Longbow are out and about.  It'll be a simple manner of getting in there, getting the serum, and then getting out."

Mission
You managed to steal the remains of serum numbers 4 and 5. Within moments of informing your contacts of your find, you have several possible buyers, all of them paying top dollar.
You also overhear that Longbow was able to apprehend the Wardens that they lost control of. They'll be in for a rude surprise when they get back to that warehouse, that's for sure."
"P4018506934" "Keep an eye out for anything strange."
"P1253938532" "Whatever, I'm not even on board for guarding this. Longbow gets all the expensive funding, and what do we get? Arrows. That's what we get."
"P519315711" "Serum Container"
"P3120901419" "containers of serum to find!"
"P825622759" "One container remains!"
"P3137204925" "You open the container to get the serum..."

"P2685793337" "Wing Fang Agent"
"P3715097001" "You've got the two serums that Longbow has been using for the Wardens - now just to sell them on the market and figure out what to do with your hard earned money!"
"P2458483622" "Earlier in Nerva, I saw a Longbow Nullifier yelling at a guy from Wyvern, but he backed down when some some members of the Legacy Chain walked over. Looks like there's some tension going on!"
"P3470432778" "Terms of Agreement"
"P568982354" "You found a contract on the ground near Savage Siren after she was defeated. It seems that she and Hollow Point have worked out a deal with Wyvern. The two of them steal from other hero organizations and use the items to lure in villains. Wyvern gives the two their support, as long as the items are then delivered to the group to be used. It appears that this contract wasn't made by the group as a whole, though it would indicate that Wyvern is hurting for some support."
"P3233226497" "You don't really care about what happens to the saps who get tricked by these two - in fact, you could use that to your advantage. Hollow Point and Savage Siren will have torn through anyone who fell for this trap - meaning it'll be a perfect time for you to walk in there and take the two of them down! Maybe you'll even show off a bit in front of all those soon-to-be clobbered villains - just to show them who is really the top dog in this place."
"P1918894261" "Take down Hollow Point and Savage Siren!"
"P3101070536" "You wait for some time until the auction should be properly over. Hollow Point and Savage Siren will have finished everything - and everyone - up by now. Time to pay them a visit."

"P2868727112" "{HeroName}! Looks like we got a smart one here!"
"P2457852670" "As long as those two keep this up. Let's get moving on cleaning up what's left."
"P3449411584" "In way...over our heads..."
"P34356174" "Savage Siren"
"P954360686" "That was even simpler than the last bust. At this rate we'll have this chunk of the Isles clear of any scum."

"P445334467" "My sister's boyfriend was kicked out of Wyvern today. He wouldn't say what happened, just that they told him not to step foot in Paragon."
"P3790164051" "How often Hollow Point and Savage Siren try to trick the unintelligent population of the Isles isn't too much of a problem - given that you're not one of them.  It creates opportunities for you to make off with some prime merchandise to sell off to whoever will bid for it. You'll have to figure out first where they're keeping the goods - it's doubtful they'll risk bringing the actual items with them to these traps. Which also means that the items shouldn't be heavily guarded - making it all the easier for you to steal them and make some quick cash."
"P421980588" "Track down the stolen goods to sell them!"

"P2340754971" "To your surprise, you find that they're keeping the stolen goods within the sewer systems of the Isles. It might not be pretty, but it'll still sell."
"P3536046283" "Steal the stolen items!"

"P2226123267" "You defeated Archon Arcadio and retrieved the other half of the codebook, which would give you full access to the weapon's system inside the Council base.  Unfortunately, Arcadio alerted a Longbow Cruiser nearby to the location of the base, willing to sacrifice the rest of his men to see you fry.  Not that you're going to fry, of course. You'll just have to put this weapon's system to use - what better target then a Longbow cruiser brimming with people looking to arrest you?"
"P1593705695" "You've already gotten ahold of one half of the codes to access the weapon system, but you'll need to get the other half. It's no big jump to think the owner will have it in his or her possession.  Once you have the codes and the info in your possession, then you can move on to bigger and better plans - like blowing up anyone who dares to get in your way!"

"P319244341" "Find the owner of the codebook, get the codes and whereabouts of the complex."
"P3673337468" "Since you already know where the hideout of the codebook owner is, there's no need to waste time. Go there and find the spy and make him or her tell you what you need to know."

Unfortunately, Arcadio alerted a Longbow Cruiser nearby to the location of the base, willing to sacrifice the rest of his men to see you fry.  While it would be simple to put this weapon's system to use, the aftereffects would be too unpredictable. You'll just have to shut it down before Longbow gets here!  You flip through the codebook and find a page describing the shut-down process.  'Vandal said that if worse comes to worse, he put in an emergency shut down procedure. It's simple enough, just access it with the code mentioned below. But to activate it we'd need to answer some security questions first."
"P2474157092" "After re-reading what this weapon is capable of, you're not too sure you'd be around if this thing goes off prematurely. Sure, it could put you in pretty high standing within the Rogue Isles, but if something goes wrong you just might get blown sky high. Or worse yet, someone else could cause it to go critical. It's best if this was out of everyone's hands.  The only way to do that would be to find the other half of the codebook and use it to shut down the weapon's system."

"P109678830" "Since you already know where the hideout of the codebook owner is, there's no need to waste time. Get over there and find where he or she is keeping the other half, then use it to shut down the weapon's system for good."

Sometime later, you receive a hurried call from the RIP, of all people. They request your services at a bank, saying that Blast Furnace has gone mad and is trying to burn the place to the ground! If anyone manages to stop them, it'll either mean Arachnos has more power to oversee your actions, or that Longbow will have a few more soldiers to spare to throw at you. Neither of those is something you're too willing to let slide.    You can use some technology you've picked up in the past to fake a signal to Longbow regarding the location of the base. "P4005692126" "It's known to everyone in the Rogue Isles that the majority of the Rogue Isles Police are corrupt - one trip to Mercy to see one of their infamous 'Infected Fighting Rings' will tell you that much. The fact that this convention is happening in St. Martial, one of the richest parts of the Isles, means someone else is backing them - either Arachnos, or one of the other several groups who have the police in their pockets.    This convention will mean the RIP will start getting some more press soon - the reporter Amanda Vines would probably kill to have some juicy information on them to release. This formula for 'exploding water' is something that could be extremely useful, when used in the right hands. Your hands, to be specific.    One of Longbow's main bases in the Rogue Isles is within Agincourt. The base has its own supply of water - pumped out through various generators deep beneath the base. "P3359520370" "Does Crey really think they can get away with going against both Arachnos and Longbow? Something like this could cause some serious chaos in the Rogue Isles - Longbow will be scouring it for signs of Crey activity, Arachnos will be doing whatever it takes to put Crey down. And when those two groups meet...well, let's just say the idea of doing business in a black market will be out the window when an all out war is going on right behind you. Some Rikti DNA was also involved - specifically in strengthening the mental network that the Bane Spiders already have.    Looks like the Rikti

"P1679633357" "Are you seriously asking me that question?"
"P3329888221" "Oh yeah, I just had to handle a few lackeys of some goon. How about you?"
"P1047197352" "Hah.  Yes, I suppose you're correct. It's most upsetting that you've chosen to try to save Miss Darls. I assume you've seen the work I've done on her?  She has the body of a monster, but still lacks the will of one. My project is still only halfway done - I will have her perfected, at least better than that Pyriss girl.  At any rate, it seems you currently stand in my way."
"P681310081" "Looks to be that way. Which means you have a very big problem."

"P3318060646" "<color orange>Peter Themari lets out a deep laugh, his breath smelling like ash.</color>  No my friend, I believe you are the one who has the problem. Unlike many of my...cohorts in the Isles, I am fully capable of handling a situation, should I need to."

"P1371355053" "Here we go..."
"P1785522078" "Why not? I always believe in showing some proper manners. Especially to someone who you're going to wipe off of this mortal coil."
"P3387570545" "No one seems to understand the idea of 'business'. That's all this is."
"P763430325" "Of course, {HeroName}, I understand business quite well.  But your business happens to conflict with mine. Which is why one of us cannot be allowed to succeed."
"P199469764" "I'm assuming this isn't the part where you walk away peacefully."
"P829499686" "No. It - is - NOT!  <color orange>Peter Themari bellows before he vanishes in a cloud of smoke."
"P352363378" "...great."
"P3998715076" "<color orange>Themari's eye twitches in irritation as he grits his teeth together.</color>  I'm just - FINE - {HeroName}. Especially considering that I am here to see to some unfinished business."
"P316117064" "Your teeth won't get any cleaner by being in a sewer, you know."
"P167188833" "<color orange>Themari rubs his arm along his lips, glaring at you.</color>  You're just full of jokes, aren't you, {HeroName}?"
"P949596629" "I always try to enjoy myself when making money."
"P2970592859" "Enough of your ramblings!  <color orange>Peter Themari bellows before he vanishes in a cloud of smoke."
"P3976614053" "Just when I thought we were getting along..."
"P1777433772" "You do some digging on the identity of Lisa Darls to find out she's actually a very wealthy stock market broker with a large amount of expensive stocks - which can be yours, if you help her out of this situation.  If she's underneath the sewers in St. Martial, it'll mean she's in Wailer territory. Fighting through those Wailers will be sure to startle the woman into running away - which could lead to her into more danger. That's not something you can risk. You'll have to figure out a way to placate the wailers in order to safely reach the Lisa Darls - if you choose to help her."
"P288189539" "Save Lisa Darls!"
"P2883681752" "You put in the request to a few of your contacts that you require a method of walking past Wailers untouched. One of your more reliable contacts sends you a magical rune. They say that it will make the Wailers think you're one of their own, so long as you hold onto it. Though the contact did warn you that the rune was very sensitive and could be shattered easily.  This'll have to do for now."
"P4092278381" "Hopefully you'll get there before Peter Themari can claim his prize again."

However, as much of a nuisance as he's been he hasn't outright put people directly in danger, so this action on his part is a bit uncharacteristic. Coupled with the fact that Arachnos is involving themselves with this situation but not on his side, it's obvious there is more going on than what appears on the surface.  No matter what, these hostages he's holding will be the only ones who really get hurt. Longbow wouldn't allow that to happen, but with Arachnos on the scene something is bound to go wrong. This has to be the dimensional raygun that everyone is after!  Moments after retrieving the device, an alarm goes off within the safe, followed by the sound of someone speaking on a radio - from within the safe!  <color CadetBlue>I assumed you'd be here, {HeroName}. My name is Hollow Point, and I'm here to ensure no one gets this weapon. I could have simply destroyed it myself...but I figured it would lure someone like you along - two birds with one stone, you see.  I'd sit tight if I were you - I've called in some...friends from Wyvern to bomb this place in moments. Enjoy your last moments!</color>  Judging by the radio, Hollow Point must be somewhere nearby - most likely around the Sky Raider base, waiting to be lifted out before the bombing!"

Wyvern will be here shortly to bomb carpet bomb this entire place - with you in it!   It also seems the Sky Raider base has a secret - a small nuclear device! It's unclear what they planned to do with it but this document shows that the base is carrying it.  Even if you were to get out of here, you would still be caught in the nuclear blast when Wyvern's bombing run comes through!  However...Longbow has been known to keep Wyvern in their place. To keep yourself out of this mess, you could radio in Longbow, showing them Wyvern's plan - it will no doubt cause them to send in their own men to intercept Wyvern - allowing you to slip out in the process!"
"P1102803381" "This plan of Frostfire's doesn't seem that hare-brained after all. Even though it sounds like he wants to go back to Paragon City - that's his own problem. You, however, want a bigger slice of the pie, and this is a wonderful opportunity.  You find out this weapon is called a <color yellow>Dimensional Raygun</color> - a prototype of a weapon in the works. Supposedly if you fire a bullet from this gun, it will shoot out from the barrel and teleport to the exact same spot in another dimension, continuing its course. It would theoretically allow a person to shoot someone else in another dimension.  There are a lot of buyers out there for this - Longbow is up there, but above them is a man named James S. Thompson.  Currently the Sky Raiders and Council are fighting over possession of the weapon - with Frostfire trying to outsmart them both. If you can stow away one in of the boats that head out towards the Sky Raider's ocean platform, you can likely sneak in past a...

"P2821837755" "Okay..."
"P2893062543" "For the most part, Westin Phipps has been able to track each of them down, though we have currently run into an...issue.  Part of the slums have become more...self-reliant lately. They aren't going to Haven House for food or supplies - they're actually able to survive on their own. Which would mean that we do not have an inside source on part of the slums. This is something that we can't let slide - not with the current issue at hand."
"P3925345011" "Still waiting for the part where I come in, Arbiter..."

"P1269874772" "Yes, of course.  We have taken over a Malta base within here.  You will pilot a Zeus Class Titan into the slums - the turrets around Grandville will fire blanks at you, of course.   Once you're in the designated section of the slums, you will unleash everything you have on the buildings within there. We've calculated the payload within the titan - it will be enough to destroy half of the apartments there, while severely damaging the others.  This will inflict many casualties...however the most important thing is that the people in these slums will no longer have enough to be self-reliant. They will be forced to go back to Haven House, where Westin Phipps will once again be able to get any information out of them.  In the end, an Arachnos patrol will arrive to take down the titan - at this point you will make your escape.  Any questions?"
"P3241642714" "...you want me to open fire on the homes of normal families?"
"P1762262250" "Hrm...well, yes, granted there are probably several poor families living there.  However, the case of finding rogue Bane Spiders is more important. As well, it will bolster the people's faith that Arachnos is here to protect them...making it harder for the people of the slums to sympathize for these 'heroic' Bane Spiders who have broken free."
"P1680001931" "You can't be serious! This is attacking innocent civilians!"

found something there that day, and they're being silenced before they go public with what they witnessed."
"P3838291939" "Why isn't the military investigating this?"
"P1995417693" "I, too, had that question. When I queried, I found all their records were classified. Upon further questioning, I was told that their case is closed. Ultimately, it appears as if the military is... Well, there's no other way to say it... They're turning their back on these veterans."
"P3907571911" "Where do the Sky Raiders come into this?"
"P4176679972" "As I was tumbling through the possibilities of how this came about, I noticed a significant thumbprint, if you will, from the Sky Raiders. Considering their military origins and their current state of being lawless mercenaries, I believe it likely they're involved in the murders. It's quite possible they've been hired by Arachnos to do their dirty work.  Considering their reaction to my appearance, and them activating whatever device they have, I'm pretty certain I'm on the right track. However, I still can not come to a full conclusion until I speak with their leader and allow him to confess."

"P2791810735" "We tried to give them information we had about a Wolfspider that had infiltrated their ranks, but they ignored us because we're 'traitors'.
